

The Arizona-Mexico Trade Corridor connects some of the most important markets from Central Mexico, Mexico's Pacific Coast, and Western United States.

The Corridor represents a combined regional Gross Domestic Product in excess of $1.7 trillion and a consumer market of more than 45 million people.

